The Athletic Night of the Y.P.S. held in the Union Church on Tuesday evening, March 18, was a success, owing to the courage and enthusiasm of the leaders in starting. Those who did turn out were amply rewarded, judging by the whole-hearted enthusiasm with which the entire exercise was received.

A feature of the programme was the step-dancing by the pastor, likewise the skipping of the latter and his accompanying the former in the movements in Indian clubswings and barbell exercises were shown by Instructor Durrant, and were well received. Numerous members of an athletic unit filled in a busy and enjoyable evening.

Mirror has some very promising talent in the athletic field, if the necessary interest is shown in bringing it out.

The equipment in the local Canadian National machine shop was increased last week by the addition of a 36 inch drill press. Previous to this repair work requiring a machine was sent to Edmonton, but in future the heaviest work demanded will be handled by the local shop. A similar machine was also sent to the Edmonton shops.

After the concert, those taking part and the visitors from the adjoining towns were invited in the building, when refreshments were served and a social hour spent. A number of parties from Erskine, Bashaw and Alix were present.

The Prairie Flower Garden Will Prove Source Of Delight If Proper Methods Are Used

By G. A. B. Krock, Horticulturist,
Canadian Pacific Railway Company

At one time there was a general impression that wheat and other grains were the only crops that would grow on the prairies, but we know now that a great many other crops, including shorter growing seasons, drought and at times severe winter weather, many vegetables can be grown and many varieties of flowers.

No doubt a great many of the regulars of the prairies have grown flowers around their homes with considerable success, but to those who are still doubtful I would suggest a visit to the many public gardens in our cities and to our government stations, not to mention the numerous private gardens which are being cultivated every year.

Having decided to make a flower garden you will have to choose the style of garden you want, and when you have done this you will consider what is known as the "mixed border," rather than formal flower beds, it being less trouble and cost to maintain and more in keeping with the general surroundings. A border should be on the side or back of the lawn and do not make it too prominent a feature in the front yard.

Of course you will have to look at the soil, you don't want it to be too light sand soil, as this will not hold water, unless, perhaps, you want a heavy clay which is too hard to work, but you should aim to get a soil between these two extremes, one that will be rich and hold the water well. A heavy clay soil can be improved by adding plenty of manure.

The next consideration is the preparation of the soil. This should have been attended to last fall, but we will assume that you have not done this and are making a garden now that you will not feel that you neglected an opportunity. However, as soon as the frost is out of the ground sufficiently this spring, I would advise you to have it tilled, and if the soil is too hard, and the soil not too poor see that some well rotted manure is worked in during the digging process.

As it is too early to start work on the soil, you will have to content yourself with a seed catalogue from some reliable seedmen. Now you will have an interesting time choosing among the many varieties of flowers, shrubs and possibly some water, if you do not know what plants you want to grow.

Let us first consider the hardy annuals as they are the easiest to grow. They require no artificial aids, such as hothouse, and are easily sown and bloom freely in the open air. The seed should be sown outdoors as soon as the ground can be worked freely. The following kinds are best for the prairie country:

Passion Flower, Coreopsis, Carduus, and Nasturtium.

If you wish to obtain early bloom you should use seed of Marigold, Centaurea, Nasturtium and Phlox indoors in shallow boxes about the middle of March. Put two or three seeds in each box, cover with soil, set out and cover twice the thickness of the seed, pressing the soil down with a board or the palm of your hand.

When they are well out of seed, but should be planted in other boxes, in rows about three inches apart to allow them to grow and make strong plants. They should be planted in the ground, places about the middle of May.

On the hardy annuals there are several that you can use to advantage such as Aster, Flowering Tobacco Plant, Zinnia, Stock, Verbena, Petunia, Lychnis, and others. The last two, however, are not hardy, so far as I know. All of them can be raised in boxes indoors from seeds as oil heat, and come up to January 1st, according to the records of the Department of Radio is playing an important part in the colonization of Canada. What were regarded before the advent of radio as isolated frontiers in parts of the country, like British Columbia, Alberta, and Saskatchewan, are now linked with half the continent by the intricate and cheering band of radio telephony so that isolation and dangers appear to be, in many respects, only meaningless terms.

As there are few florists worth the trouble to plant, we will not stop to consider them.

Passing on to the perennials, we find many old favorites such as English Primrose, Bell, Columbine, Bleeding Heart, Lupinus, Iris, Perennial Phlox, Pasque, Cypripedium, Oriental and Iceland Poppy, Sweet William, Pinks and Pyrethrum Rose.

I would not advise to raise all of them from seed, but rather buy the roots or plants. There are a number, however, that would not be difficult to raise from seed, but you would not be able to get them in time. Some can be left in the ground over winter, but should be covered with straw manure or other litter.

Of the less hardy varieties, I might mention the Dahlia, roots of which may be planted in the spring, will give a good show or bloom during the late summer, but the roots must be dug up after the first few frosts and stored until the following winter. The Petunia and Nicotiana are very delicate plants but do not hardy enough to stand a severe winter.

We will assume now that planting has started and that you are going to have a border, and that you will not advise your to start to a point in a small way and gradually increase as you become familiar with plants and their requirements. For a start you could have a border 2 to 3 feet wide from 20 to 30 feet long, depending on the time and money you wish to spend on it.

When it comes to the actual arrangement and planting you will find plenty of space for exercise. The first step is to lay out the "Horseshoe" fence, when a wire has been strung and a faint voice said, "I'm here, Mr. Strong." All the rest are in Heaven," the last meant his father, mother, sister, governess and a friend, who had been created to him by the author of the book and for whom the future looked bright but holding nothing.

A Boy Scout Hero

"Mustn't Cry, I'm a Scout," Said Frank Burlington

"BE PREPARED"

On the reclaimed land at the foot of the hill on the Yukon River, on the terrible afternoon of September 1, were gathered a crowd of refugees from the far north, who had sought them. Some were unshorn, but nearly all had some cut or wound as evidence of the work they had done.

Among them was the British chaplain, the Rev. Ernest Strong, attending to the worst cases, and doing his best to cheer up his compatriots, who had seemed to have collapsed about him, and for whom the future looked dark.

He had nothing to do but despair.

Suddenly in the long grass he saw a small form lying, and with difficulty he crawled over to it. It was the body of a Scout, a faint voice said, "I'm here, Mr. Strong. All the rest are in Heaven,"

The last meant his father, mother, sister, governess and a friend, who had been created to him by the author of the book and for whom the future looked bright but holding nothing.

Educating Coming Settlers

Canadian Farming Methods Taught to School Boys in England

There is good reason to expect that the lectures designed to encourage the settlers to come to Canada by settling on the land in Canada—which are being given at a number of the principal public schools in England to the present abundant influx of these settlers—will be continued, and the Macdonald College of Agriculture, affiliated with McGill University, Montreal, place at the disposal of such youths, all the resources of his college. In, indeed, he would be desired that the young people who come to Canada should meet Canadians of their own age under the most favorable conditions, instead of—as has often been the case in the past—being placed among men and women who were far from being congenial employees and among undesirable employees.

This movement should do much for the future welfare of the Dominion. Montreal Herald.

School has been closed for several days this week on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. A. Finiditer.

Gadsby Lake District

The Ladies' Aid of the Gadsby Lake district had a very successful bazaar and social evening on Saturday, March 12th. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a fair crowd in attendance and the girls were well pleased with the proceeds of the evening, which amounted to $68.25. A novel feature of the entertainment was "Mrs. Darley's Wax Works," which was very amusing and much enjoyed by all.

Fred McDonald struck a good flow of water on his farm, at 68 feet.

Lakehead District

W. Doolittle, of Bashaw, will work this summer for H. C. Brewster.

We understand that Mrs. H. Phelps' farm, Andrew Thomas' farm, and also the Bowen farm, for this year.

On account of special medical treatment at the Lacombe hospital, Mrs. John Stevenson did not return home last Saturday as was stated, but is expected next Saturday.

Nearly 100 persons paid a visit to the Fleming home, to see Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fleming, who have been living on the W. P. Fanner farm, Buffalo lake, for the past two years, and who are about to leave this district.

The gathering was in the nature of a surprise and was planned to show the esteem in which the Fleming family is held by the people of this community.

Geo. W. on behalf of the present, expressed regret at the departure of the Flemings, and as a slight remembrance presented them with a large silver-mounted spoon. The balance of the evening was spent in music and cards, and during this period, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming being expressed to each other and their appreciation of the gift and the kind words that accompanied it. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming have not made up their minds fully as to where they will locate.
